Project Manager (m/f/d) of the Sino-German Energy Transition Project

As a federal enterprise, GIZ supports the German Government in achieving its objectives in the field of international cooperation for sustainable development.

Job-ID: P1533V3686
Location: Peking
Assignment period: 06/01/2020 - 12/31/2022
Field: Infrastructure

Type of employment: full- or part-time
Application deadline: 05/10/2020

Job description

The Energy Team of GIZ China engages at advanced technical level in latest trends and innovation related to the energy transition in China as an emerging country with global impact potential and extraordinary strategic relevance for Germany, Europe, and the world. The Sino-German Energy Transition Project supports the Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs and Energy in promoting a low-carbon energy policy. The basis for designing effective measures for the integration of renewable energy into the energy system and the energy market requires scientifically sound, evidence-based advice. This project advises policymakers and downstream institutions on technical issues such as the modeling of energy scenarios and related policies, including electromobility.

Your tasks

- Supporting the project lead in the implementation of the Sino-German Energy Transition Project
- Coordination with relevant supporting institutes and service providers in Europe and China
- Organisation of workshops, and conferences
- Drafting of articles and reports
- Supporting project and budget planning, as well as financial management and reporting
- Coordination between GIZ, German and Chinese implementation partners regarding project planning, implementation, and strategy
- Support cluster activities related to electromobility
Your profile

- Master’s degree or higher, with a major in energy systems, energy policy, energy economics, or similar fields
- Several years of work experience in relevant areas
- Extensive knowledge of energy transitions, particularly as relates to the electricity and transport sectors and electrified transport/new energy vehicles
- Practical and theoretical knowledge of the economic and social systems of emerging economies, especially China, with relation to energy policy
- Strong ability to act in complex international and intercultural contexts and to engage in dialogue with technical experts
- Strong communication and report drafting skills as well as the ability to work well in a team
- Capacity to work in a target-oriented, independent, resilient, and reliable manner
- Fluency in English and German, Chinese is an asset

Location information

Please use the following link for information about living and working in China.

The security situation is tense. Tailored security risk mitigation measures are in place for GIZ staff in country. GIZ staff must adhere to security measures at all times. Please also check the country-specific information provided by the German Federal Foreign Office. A contact person for security risk management is appointed at the local GIZ office. The freedom of movement is restricted. GIZ does not impose any restrictions on life partners and family members to move with you to the country of deployment. We kindly ask you to inform yourself which forms of relationships are legally and socially accepted in the country of deployment. At the site of operation the particulate pollution occurs to be many time higher than the European acceptable limit. As part of the selection process and during the recruitment examination you will be informed of appropriate protective and behavioral measures.

Notes

GIZ operates worldwide. As part of the GIZ team, you are prepared to take on international assignments and pass on your expertise.

This job is suited to a full or a part-time position.

Please understand that we can accept and process in principle only applications via our E-recruiting system. Following the confirmation of your successful application, kindly check your spam / junk mail folder on a regular basis, since some provider classify emails from our recruiting system as spam.

GIZ would like to increase the proportion of employees with disability, both in Germany and abroad. Applications from persons with disabilities are most welcome.

A prerequisite for the conclusion of the agreement is the lifting of the restrictions currently in force in the company on the possibilities for travel and business trips in order to contain the worldwide spread of the Covid-19 virus.

You can get an overview of our benefits packages here.

---

Our benefits

We are a provider of international cooperation services for sustainable development and work to build a future worth living around the world. We support projects in over 130 countries to achieve goals sustainably together with our partners. Everyone has the same opportunities in our company, regardless of gender, nationality, religion, sexual orientation or physical disability. We recruit based on specialist expertise and social skills. Transparency and fair opportunities for career advancement are just as much a matter of course for us as gender not being a barrier to taking up a management position. Your work will begin with an onboarding and preparation phase that will give you initial insights into GIZ and lay the groundwork for your upcoming assignment, establishing new contacts and building up your network. We provide opportunities for taking part in training and professional development to all our staff. Our Academy for International Cooperation (AIZ) will help you develop your skills. Ensuring the compatibility of career, family work and care commitments is part of our corporate policy. Flexible working hours and comprehensive preparation packages for families accompanying staff abroad are two examples of the opportunities that GIZ offers its employees. Our family-friendly philosophy also includes providing support for family members in need of care. Mobile working within a communication bandwidth between 6 am and 10 pm gives staff maximum flexibility. We offer you various part-time working models to give you flexibility in planning your working and home lives. We allow our staff to accrue working time credits in a long-term working time account. This credit can then be used to take a lengthy leave of absence. Extensive check-ups and preventive measures (e.g. on appointment, before the outward journey, during the stay in a country of assignment, in an emergency) are provided to our staff and the family members accompanying them as a matter of course. We reward staff who achieve their agreed annual targets with a variable remuneration component. You will receive various additional benefits during your stay abroad that will depend on your country of assignment. We have put together an extensive package of benefits for family members accompanying staff abroad, including medical check-ups, language lessons and lump-sum allowances for the outward and homeward journeys. The Academy for International Cooperation (AIZ) also offers a range of preparatory courses on local culture, history and customs and on travelling with children. During your assignment abroad, we will largely reimburse you for the school fees incurred for sending your children to schools providing a general education. In many places, you will receive a subsidy towards the rent on your place of residence. If you have not yet found suitable accommodation at the time of your outward journey, you will receive a subsidy to put towards your hotel costs.

---

About us

We create prospects for people and with people. As GIZ has an international mandate, we offer a multicultural working environment. We are committed service providers and dedicated professionals, even under difficult circumstances. We take pride in enabling our employees to develop their professional and personal skills. There are plenty of reasons to join our motivated team – ranging from the diverse challenges you will face on a daily basis in one of our 130 partner countries, to the broad scope you will have for shaping your work.

Contact

Customer Portal recruitment and follow-on assignment +49 6196/79-3200
kundenportal-rueckfragen@giz.de